TWO DEMOCRATS MENTIONED

FOR CONGRESSMAN NOMINATION

Possibilities for the democratic nomination for congressman, in the Second district, have come to the light, says a state newspaper, in the persons of Selectman Raymond J. Jodoin of Sprague and Hollin U. Tyler of Haddam, the party's nominee for governor in 1920. The names of both are being prominently mentioned in the district, which comprises Middlesex. New London, Windham and Tolland countles.

Mr. Tyler is not asking his party for anything, but those closest to him in the party are not unmindful of the fact that he accepted the gubernatorial nomination in 1920 at a financial sacrifice. This was largely because he gave up the probate judgeship for the Haddam district to make the run, although he knew when he started out that he could not be elected.
The stuation is different with Selectman Jodoin and democrats of New London county are backing him in considerable numbers. Jodoin is a former member of the legislature, serving in the house of representatives in 1907 and 1909, and running for congress is nothing new for him. The last time he did

Farmers are now more numerous in the market places and the quality of the products they are displaying shows a decided improvement over those dis-played a few weeks ago.
